

RICHARD FARIS President

With over 35 years of construction experience, I have dealt with every aspect of the construction business. At Hensel Phelps, my staff and I were involved in over $2 billion dollars in Lump Sum Contracts and provided Preconstruction & Budget Management services on an additional $2 billion worth of construction. My years of experience in field operations have run the gamut from Carpenter to Project Manager to full profit center responsibility as construction company Owner and have been a valuable compliment to my marketing, estimating and preconstruction experience. In addition to management capabilities, I have a full range of technical abilities, including scheduling, project administration, conceptual and hard bid estimating, cost management, value engineering, and market analysis. I am highly regarded by all the owners, subcontractors and designers I have had dealt with over the years.
